Dear Friends,

Beginning the New Year with the liturgical season of Epiphany around us, creates space and curiosity to ask the question, “How is Jesus currently revealed in the world?” Epiphany is the time for us in the church to refresh ourselves with the biblical stories of Jesus being slowly revealed to public scrutiny from His dedication in the temple when He was a baby through His baptism and the start of His public ministry. That question challenges us to look both symbolically and “real time” to determine an answer. Symbolically Jesus may be seen in acts of kindness and forgiveness that are sometimes simple and sometimes extraordinary. Jesus can be seen in acts of mission and ministry where God’s love transforms lives, empowers healing, and especially when people are caring for those who suffer or those who are excluded.

In “real time” seeing Jesus as the composite of 34,000 different Christian denominational entities, not to mention their million plus congregational affiliates worldwide, tends to keep Jesus’ face a little blurry. You and I should be able to see this massive gathering and recognize the Holy Spirit’s presence holding us together—similar to Paul’s analogy of the Church having many parts yet being members of the same body (1 Cor. 12: 14–27). Those who cannot make that analogy of the Church universal as the body of Christ may not see Jesus at all.

There is not just the visual image of Jesus to the world there is also the verbal message that is being presented. With all of the different preachers and evangelists on television, radio, and on the web (not to mention those in print)—where do we hear Jesus’ voice or hear his teaching? Is it Joel Osteen or Rick Warren? Maybe His voice is heard in Pat Robertson, T.D. Jakes, or Bennie Hinn? Who do you hear speaking as Jesus would?

Epiphany leads us along the original way that Jesus was revealed to His community and then to the world of His time. How and where are we hearing and seeing Him today? Perhaps just as important and necessary is to ask ourselves how we are portraying Jesus in our lives. Do folks around us see Jesus in us? Is there a difference between being a Christian and showing Jesus to people around us? If you are living and speaking as a Christian, then you might still have some leeway when it comes to interpreting Jesus’ teachings and applications for life. If you speak for Jesus, then you need to have the mind of Christ, the same passion and commitment, not to mention the depth of compassion and mercy that He had. You also need to see yourself as being poured out in this life; removing the safeguards that tell us to preserve and protect our lives so that they will be long and fruitful. The other key component would be an unswerving devotion and awareness for God’s presence in all that you do. Trips to the grocery store are God moments. Mowing the yard is God time. The morning cup of coffee and the evening conversation before bed is Holy time. Preparing to come to worship at church or synagogue is excited Holy time because you will experience God in the midst of the gathered community who share the excitement of God’s presence. Have you heard anyone speak from those qualities or life perspectives?

The season of Epiphany encourages these considerations as we follow the beginnings of Jesus’ ministry. It is a time for reflection about His life and ours as He has called us to follow Him. How is Jesus seen and heard in each of us?

In Christ’s service together wherever He leads, David

Junior Church Leaders Needed!
As we move into 2012, we’d like to add several teachers to the rotation in Junior Church. It is NOT a difficult assignment. The teaching lesson is printed out IN BOLD LETTERS and the children spend a majority of the class time moving from reflection station to reflection station—on their own. You are simply an adult presence in the room.

I would invite you to SERIOUSLY consider this opportunity to be engaged with our children in their spiritual formation. All materials are provided. If you have questions, please call Dani Cartwright at 817-944-8794. There will be a calendar on the office window beginning January 1st for sign up for teachers!

Thank you for your care for our children!

ANNOUNCING GAME NIGHT WITH CHILI

Our annual Family Game Night will be held on Saturday, February 4, from 6:00-9:00 pm in Fellowship Hall. Our food “theme” this year will be chili and fixin’s. There will be a sign-up sheet on the office window for those wanting to showcase their chili and for those who would like to bring snacks and fixin’s to go with the chili.

We will have someone overseeing the nursery or kid’s playroom, and we may have a volunteer or two who will bring Mac-n-cheese for the younger, delicate palates that may not be able to appreciate the subtle favors of chili.

As always, everyone is invited to bring their favorite games and enjoy great food and fellowship together. Mark your calendars and we will see you all on the February 4.
